JACKSONVILLE, ALABAMA.

SATURDAY, FEB. 1st, 1873.

Nich McAlister more than any other man in the Legislature.

Mr. Ragland will place by a copy of Shakespeare on the desk of each member of the House.

Hon. Peter M. Dox has our thanks for valuable public documents, including the daily Congressional Globe.

The painful impression that the Democratic members of the Alabama Senate are not equal to the emergency, is gaining ground.

Ex-Congressman W. B. Norris, one of the earliest of the carpet-baggers, is dead. His remains will be taken to his native State (Maine) for interment.

As predicted at the session, my view.

For Persons, in love, the devil don't bark. And, if he don't bark, he's not a dog. That black is a white, and white is black.

Mr. W. I. Lanier, of Selma, has been appointed Receiver of the Selma, Rome and Dalton Railroad, by Judge Brewster, from Selma to Jacksonville.

We have heretofore supposed Bennett Gilmore, horse-shoe to be dead, but since Nich McAlister bears testimony to the fact, we have our doubts.

The Montgomery correspondence of the Selma Times is remarkably full and well written, and reflects credit upon the staff of that enterprising paper. Its proprietor has a nose for news and will have it at any cost.

As the Legislature has done nothing but wrangle over the organization of the body under Attorney General Williams' plan, since our last, we print some of the mass of long winded speeches and other stuff which make up the proceedings.

We learn by special telegram to the Selma Times that Monroe Danahy, a Democrat, has been elected from Tuscaloosa county to fill a vacancy in the Legislature created by the death of Mr. Whitfield. There were two Democratic and one Radical candidates. The vote was very small at all the precincts.

The great Clarke indicates that the respectable politics of the Montgomerys is a house of cards. Clarke has even wished that the Capital was elsewhere in view of the fact that local charges are high, but his unpopularity could cause no harm. Montgomery finds her safety in the contemplation of Clarke.

Some scholars number of the Legislature, who had never seen a pavement before his negro constituency sent him to Montgomery, urged as one reason why he sometimes had thought the capital should be removed, that the streets of the city were rather dirty. That filthy youth will never rest until he becomes a member of the "street brigade."

The excellent Montgomery correspondent of the Selma Times says that the handsomest man in the Legislature "that is our Mangle" was in no wise sensible to the presence of ladies in the galleries for the first time, some time ago. We know Mangle to be impressionable and a great lover of the fair sex. "None but the fairest deserve the fair," and it may be added, none but the brave love and appreciate the fair. We put our Representative on the back.

Judge Bartlett, on report of the assignees of the Alabama & Chattanooga Railroad, stating that $212,000, with interest, of the $312,000 bid by the State at bankruptcy sale, will remain unpaid, ordered the road of the road in thirty days, if the State should not pay the sum stated by that time. Gov. Lewis appeared personally in court and asked this time for the State, promising to raise the amount at any sacrifice there by showing that he thought his Democratic predecessor had made a good investment for the State in its purchase and one well worthy of sustaining.

Removal of the Capital.

Mr. Green, brother of our county Representative, has just returned from Montgomery, and informs us that all differences are about being settled in the Legislature, and that it will be in thorough working order by next Monday, and fully organized. He also informs us that there is, by the Legislature, with both parties, a disposition to remove the Capital from Montgomery, and that the Alabama and Tallapoosa are both bidding for it. He thinks if there was an effort made by Birmingham and the county, it could be easily removed to this place.

It would certainly be the blackest ingratitude for the Representatives of the Democratic party to assist the Radicals in their unworthy spite against Montgomery, after the events of the past few weeks. It is well known that, but for the pecuniary aid extended the Capital Legislature by the people of Montgomery at a time when both the Auditor and Treasurer ignored it, that body could not have sustained itself against the nefarious designs of Parsons & Co. This very patriotic act of the Capital City gave offense to the baffled conspirators, and led to the spiteful proposition to remove the seat of Government to some other point.

Aside from the fact that it is a Radical measure, the Democratic members ought not to support it, because their constituents, the tax payers, are not prepared in the present depressed condition of our finances, to endure the expense of the change, which could not be less than several hundred thousand dollars. Late in the question of removal of the Grand Lodge from Montgomery was submitted to the Masonic lodges throughout the State, and those bodies, truly representative of the white element of the State, since no negroes belong to them, decided overwhelmingly to let it remain there. This we offer as a straw for the consideration of Democratic members, who are doubtless anxious to consult the intelligent popular will in all they do.

We do not know that this removal scheme is seriously entertained by the Legislature as a body. Are rather inclined to think not, from the fate of the resolution introduced by the frightened McAlister, and from the treatment of the subject by the Montgomery press; but if such an idea is seriously harbored, we think we reflect the wishes of the people of this county when we respectfully request the Representative from Calhoun to oppose it in whatever shape it may come up.

Radical Taxation.

The Greensboro Beacon, in commenting on the late law passed by the bogus radical court house legislature, to issue two millions of bonds and double the taxes, recommends that public meetings be held in every County in the State, to protest against that most iniquitous and oppressive measure.

We heartily second the motion of the Beacon, with this addition, that these public meetings instruct the democratic and conservative members of the Legislature to oppose any further prolongation of the term after the second, thirty days expire. Better, infinitely better, have no legislation at all, than such as produced by unscrupulous radical power.

The Montgomery Advertiser, commenting on the same subject, says:

"We now wish to say to the faithful editor of the Greensboro Beacon, that notwithstanding the plain and indisputable character of the attempted outrage of the Court House Legislature, and in the face of the plan of Adjustment of the Attorney General of the United States, and of his letter in explanation of that plan whose voice cannot be honestly misinterpreted for a moment, we are surprised that the Tax Assessor and other officials engaged in the assessment of taxes in Montgomery county, are proceeding in the discharge of their functions as the assumption that the Court House leaders were a legal Legislature and that it is their duty to do that job. They have been instructed, it seems, by some Department, or Departments of the State Government to execute these pretended and fraudulent laws. It appears then that a gang of conspirators have, of their own will and for their own purposes, laid heavy taxes on the people, which they are taking measures to collect without authority of law. There can be no greater crime than this. The power to impose taxes is the most delicate and responsible trust under any form of political Government. Our Ancestors (of course no allusion is here made to our African Ancestors) waged many domestic wars in Great Britain and other European countries in opposition to unlawful taxes and our Revolutionary Fathers loved the way of the independence on a question of taxation. It is truly a Sovereign power, for when men pay taxes they do it voluntarily and as freedom, or by compulsion as a badge of submission and slavery. Now, we are not only in first of resisting the payment of the illegal taxes, but we must grapple these conspirators and criminals by the throat and bring them to punishment in the criminal courts of the country. These are the worst kind of Ku Klux. They are unscrupulously determined under the Enforcement Act. Citizens, it is time that we had put an end to some suitable and authoritative manner to Radical insolence and usurpation in Alabama! The Washington Government will not interfere, we will bring them to terms in a week, and we do not believe it will interfere, and if at all, on the side of peace and law in our State. We believe that the Judge of the United States District Court will receive evidence of the fact, so the Federal authorities. Let us accept them for the same which these violent men offer to us, and try them before a competent Tribunal."

Queer Voting in the Senate.

The Montgomery Advertiser, after commenting on the delay in the organization of the Legislature, and fixing the responsibility for the same, in the House, up at the Radical members, has this to say about the course of the Senate, in one instance, by which the delay sought by the Radical minority in that body was obtained. People will be at a loss to account for the course of the Senate on any other ground than that of the imbecility of that body.

We must say that the proceedings in the Senate, for which the Democrats and Conservatives were clearly responsible, since they were in an undisputed majority, were very singular, to say the least. The Marcuro case, as we all know, was hurried through the Senate on a principle of equity and liberality. There was no motion to print the Report, or the evidence in the case. The Report was unanimously passed by the Committee on a case law certain upon the law and facts that of General Martin of the District and General District, and without a single effort or a proposition for delay or opposition of any sort, the Senate voted unanimously, Conservatives and all, to send Mr. Dox, the understanding was that the Committee on the District case should report on last Saturday. On Saturday, Mr. Dox reported, and the floor of the Senate in substance that the difference between himself and the Conservatives on the Committee was irreconcilable, and that the difference between them was not regarded to the facts but to the law, and he asked until Monday to make out his report. This was conceded. On Monday it was announced that he was too sick to attend the Session of the Senate, and the report of the Conservative members was received and ordered to be read on the next day, Tuesday. On Tuesday (yesterday) Mr. Dox reported his report to the Senate, and it was presented by Mr. Goodloe. The Senator from Colbert, when presenting the report, and before it was received or read, moved that the two reports, with all the evidence, be printed. Mr. Dox then corroborated Mr. Dox's statement on Saturday, that the difference in the Committee was one of law and not of fact. The vote was taken by yeas and nays, and sixteen Senators (fifteen Conservatives and one Republican) voted not to publish the reports and evidence. The Senate, in other words, resolved by sixteen to eleven against further delay in the work of organizing the General Assembly. We had every reason to suppose that the main question was now about being speedily and happily settled. There seemed nothing in the way of this most desirable consummation. But Mr. Goodloe now moved that the two Reports be printed, and at once there was an indication on the part of several Conservative Senators of a willingness to his wish. Mr. FARRER, of Tallapoosa then moved a proviso to Mr. Goodloe's resolution that the Reports should be printed and laid before the Senate by noon on the following day. A vote by yeas and nays was taken on this proviso, and it was voted down by the Conservative Senators voting against it. The vote was then taken on Mr. Goodloe's resolution and it passed, only seven Conservative Senators voting in opposition to it.

But the most remarkable part of the proceedings are yet to come. JAMES HARRISON, an African Senator, now moved to reconsider the vote by which the Senate had refused to print the voluminous evidence in the case. He was quite pertinacious, but a point was made on him that he had not voted in the affirmative. Mr. McKimstry however, came to his relief and informed him that he could move a distinctive resolution to print the evidence. This Harrison did, and he and behold! the Senate which ten minutes before on the yeas and nays had so liberally refused, and properly refused to encounter the unnecessary expense and delay of publishing testimony about which there was no material difference of opinion, now voted, more than half the Conservative Senators voting for JAMES's resolution to print all the evidence. It was a splendid triumph of persistent Africa over Europeanism.

We fear this proceeding will now delay the action of the Senate on Gen. MARTIN's case, and the discharge of the legitimate functions of the General Assembly, for a number of days. We trust this will be the result to follow from it. It is said that the evidence is voluminous and will make a large book. Some of the Conservative Senators were not satisfied with that test vote of sixteen to eleven. Perhaps they wanted a larger majority. The majority, however, the people are suffering their constituents have become impatient and angry; the Press of the State is not satisfied with these delays that paralyze almost of imbecility; and many thousands of dollars of expense are being unnecessarily incurred. General Martin has a much stronger case, both in facts and law, than Mr. Dox, and the people of Alabama are tired of paying their hard earned dollars and getting nothing but Radical nonsense and lawlessness in return.

The New York Herald of a late date, takes off the Credit Mobilier fraud and bribery exposure, in which so many members of Congress and Government officials are implicated, and which is now being thoroughly ventilated by an investigating committee, in the following witty and facetious style:

C. M.

Ravages of the Great Washington Plague.

Terrible Mortality at the Capitol.

LIST OF THE DISTINGUISHED DEAD.

Netting and Metrical Tributes to Their Memory.

"The Evil Men Do Lives After Them."

[From the New York Herald.]

The terrible and widespread ravages of that extraordinary disease called Credit Mobilier are alarming the whole nation. The epidemic was as mild as the measles compared to it. It has already carried off many most distinguished citizens. It has not come from Canada like the epidemic, nor from Asia like the cholera, nor from the West Indies like the yellow fever. It is believed to have started somewhere in Pennsylvania, and, moving with a favorable condition of the atmosphere in Washington District of Columbia, stayed there, and developed by reason of the defective sanitary arrangements in the political system of the capital. Great sympathy is felt for Massachusetts, so many of her distinguished citizens have been swept off. The following list of deaths will be read with painful interest by the public. The notices are inserted (contrary to our usual custom) free of charge:

Ames, Hoax, of Massachusetts.—Died of Credit Mobilier (long and lingering illness), aged 69.

O holy worth, whose virtues were unknown;

O shining light, whose glimmer was unseen;

Whose latest spasm of godlike work has shown;

What men were not, but what they might have been.

Thou told'st the truth, tho' hid 'neath many cloaks,

O concentrated essence of a Hoax.

All stockholders of the Union Pacific Railroad who received a higher dividend than 750 per cent. are cordially invited to attend the funeral.

Massachusetts papers please copy.

ALLEN, JOHN B., of Massachusetts.—Died of C. M., was discovered with the disease too late for physic. Aged about a century.

O'er this sad wreck let mankind never dwell;

Fraud knocked down every ninepin in this Alley.

This is nobody's funeral.

ALLISON, JOHN B., of Iowa, died of C. M. An overdose of dividend hastened his departure. Aged 50 years.

Long dead to us, sweet Allison,

The Hoax you could not not rally;

If so soon done, why woe's begun,

Thou fragrant son of Alley?

Remains will be embalmed.

BIRNBAUM, JOHN A., of Ohio.—Died of C. M. Supposed to have caught the fatal infection from Duwess, aged 62 years.

Moan for him, welkin, he'll wake you no more,

With shouts against theft, Buckeye Bingham.

The death bells shall boom how he garnered his store,

And gentle Ben Butler will ring 'em.

Announcement of funeral hereafter. Ohio papers please copy.

BROOKS, JIM, of New York, died of Credit Mobilier (pretending to the last that he was well in health; no remedies were administered), aged 62.

He chattered, chattered as he went.

To join the great Salt River;

Hoax might threat or Hoax relent,

But he'd deny forever.

"Mong well-filled 'banks," his way he picked.

With watered "Credits," ever he

McComb might "dam," McComb con-Vict.

Jim Brooks denied forever.

His funeral will have no political significance.

COLFAX, SMILER, of Indiana, died of C. M. (the agonies of this poor victim were intense; to the last he insisted that it was something else besides Credit Mobilier), aged 42.

A beautiful smile came in our midst.

Too lively and full to remain;

They stretched him on racks till the soul of Colfax

Flung up into Heaven again.

May the fat of his Schuyler warn

One of a snail.

Who dividends gets on the brain!

Indiana papers please copy.

DAWES, HENRY L., of Massachusetts, died of C. M. (the last he insisted that it was something else besides Credit Mobilier), aged 57.

Retencher! Leader! Thou hast left us;

Plymouth Rock thy loss will feel;

For a postage-mess benefit us,

Old Homestead is unsegregated.

Funeral strictly private. No wake.

GARFIELD, JAMES A., of Ohio, died of C. M. (struggled hard against the deadly epidemic, but it was no use. He expired in unexpected), aged only 42.

Here rests his head upon its lap of earth.

A youth to fortune and misfortune known;

Moblier moved upon his humble birth.

And Hoax Ames homeward marked him for his own.

Will be buried at Congressional Cemetery, Washington, D. C. No cards.

KELLEY, WILLIAM D., of Pennsylvania, died of C. M. (too much iron in his blood and too little protection of himself made him an easy victim to the fell destroyer), aged 60.

Weep not, "pig iron," public dear,

He is not dead, he's sleeping here;

His thunder-blasted eye is dim,

Moblier put a lash on him.

His remains will be "protected" in a metallic casket. A one-hour funeral announced hereafter.

PATTERSON, JAMES W., of New Hampshire, died of C. M. (this suffering drew tears from his friends; he persisted to the end in supposing it was a different complaint), aged 30 years.

Pennsylvanian papers please copy.

Funeral at an early day. Music by the band: "Down in a coal mine."

Investigations nowadays, City, State and National, are a decided success. They all strike rich veins that were not even dreamed of. Heretofore they have been failures. We like the change, and are decidedly in favor of continuing in that line, when we have such good luck. More corruption has been unearthed in the past year and exposed than was ever known before. Congress, especially, is doing its duty so nobly that our member of Congress, Mr. Stevenson, has been encouraged to offer a resolution in favor of the Credit Mobilier Committee to inquire into the relations between members of Congress and the Daburque and Sioux City Railroad Company. This was amended so as to include the Central Pacific Railroad. It is expected that this investigation will strike a number of birds that have not been heretofore in any suspected flock, and that its disclosures will be startling. The question will soon be, Are there any honest members of Congress on the Republican side? Only one Democrat has been criminated—Mr. Brooks, of New York. Cincinnati Enquirer.

Immigration to the United States is attracting more attention than ever in Europe, notwithstanding the wish of the governmental powers there to check it, especially in Prussia, Italy and elsewhere.

In 1872, 10,000 at least. The great body of them as heretofore, will land in New York, and yield an immense income to foreign ship-owners in the way of passage money. Many of these immigrants will bring $3,000 each in money, and all of them will average over $1,000 each, which of itself is a very large sum of money. One hardly realizes that considerably over 8,000,000 immigrants have arrived in the United States since 1800, and that the year to come bids fair to exceed any one which has gone before.

J. J. Cohen,

To-Morrow.

To-day can sing of yesterday,

Songs tender, thick with sorrow;

But mirth comes along the way—

All beautiful To-morrow!

Her face is full of prophetic

Her lips have still withdrawn,

And gazing in her radiant eyes

Song turns to silence golden.

Hope rapt beside her pathway stands,

Asks nothing but the vision,

And turns at night with empty hands,

Still dreaming of fruition.

Ah, beauty! soon as present, gone,

Most fleet and most beguiling;

Why are our hearts forever drawn

By that strange, far off smiling?

Why is it that from new delays

New faith they still can borrow?

Oh, is it that among the days

Comes Heaven's first good morning?

She will come in with no alarms,

Under this same low portal,

And clasp us in her mortal arms,

And we shall turn immortal!

[Harpers for March.

The Struggle Over.

The struggle that has been going on at Montgomery since the time prescribed by law for the meeting of the Legislature of the State, has terminated. The Radicals have triumphed, and are in entire control of the State Government of Alabama. The deed is done.

The result has been reached by disregarding precedent, and trampling under foot the rights and rights, totally ignoring the Constitution, and by the employment of the most unparalleled fraud and bad faith. The proceedings in the Senate on yesterday, must ever stand as the foulest blot on the history of the State, and the name of McKinstry must henceforth be a by-word and a scorn with all good people.

The day is dark for Alabama, and the prospect is the gloomiest that it has ever been the fortune of her people to contemplate. The era of fraud and corruption has dawned, and the plunder of the treasury and the plunder of the pockets of the taxpayers will, unless we are greatly mistaken, soon commence. "Grand developing schemes," by scores, will be pushed through the Legislature with incident haste, and stupendous jobs will be the order of the day.

Taxpayers may as well prepare to bear the heaviest burdens that have ever been imposed on them, and the list of delinquent taxpayers, will in future, be our honest judgment, be very greatly added to the list of delinquents. The details of interesting details of the damnable deed, and to those who refer. It is a dark picture, fellow-citizens of Alabama, that is held up, but we believe it is a correct

one. The hour is dark.—Selma Times.

THE LEGISLATURE.

(Reported Expressly for the Selma Times.)

MONTGOMERY, January 30, 1873.

As soon as the roll was called and journal read,

Mr. Goodloe: I will state to the Senate that Mr. Pennington will be in his seat at 12 m.

The Chair: Mr. Cooper's motion to reconsider the motion to print evidence is now in order.

Mr. Cooper: I do not wish to consume the time of the Senate and am willing to have a vote taken, without discussion, on the question.

The Chair: Under the rule of the Senate, it properly comes up. The question is the reconsideration of the vote

ordering the evidence in the Martin-Miller contest printed.

Mr. Hewitt: I thought, if any part had been printed, all should be printed.

The question was reconsidered by ayes

17, noes 10.

The Chair: The question is now on the original resolution, ordering the evidence printed.

The Chair: I move the indefinite posponement of the motion to print the evidence.

Mr. Harrison called for the ayes and

noes.

Mr. Hewitt: I desire to be heard a few words in this matter. A paper in the Selma Times, and which purposed to be a portion of the evidence, and I want it all to appear.

Mr. Carmichael: The gentleman's argument amounts to nothing, for the part published, was done at the expense of the proprietors of the paper, and this is not the question. The resolution to indefinitely postpone, was last by a vote of ayes 14, noes 14, the Chair voting with ayes.

Mr. Cooper moved to lay the motion on the table. Carried.

Mr. Robinson moved that the Senate proceed with the consideration of the resolution to send Mr. Martin, and the substitute offered by Mr. Harrison to send Mr. Miller.

Mr. Hamilton: I understand the question before the House to be the substitute of the name of the Dallas. The substitute is the opposite of the motion.

I have taken pains to examine the law since the reports were made, and shall cast my vote according to my convictions, sitting as a judge in the case. When I cast my vote, I vote as a representative of my people, without any reference to any person, but as my conscience dictates. The question here is a judicial one, not a political one. Policy refers to things in the future. But a new political party, or its adherents, cannot refer to the law or facts; and as I understand the law upon examination, I shall decide.

MONTGOMERY, ALA.,

January 30th 1873.

To-day the darkest, blackest page of Alabama's history was made. Two of the most daring acts ever perpetrated in the broad open day, in the Senate Chamber of Alabama, and the persons guilty of the bad faith will live in eternal infamy, as long as Alabama is a State. Mc-

Kinstry, the Lieutenant Governor of Alabama, ruled that the vote on the adoption of a substitute for a majority report from a Committee, was a ballot, and could not be reconsidered. Mr.

Cobb changed his vote from no to aye, for the purpose of making a motion to reconsider before the vote was announced. But the Chair refused to put the motion to reconsider, and declared that

AS for the present removed his office to his residence on Spring hill, where he will attend to all work in his line. The fullest satisfaction guaranteed. Jan. 18, 1873.

Merchants and others who advance supplies to farmers to enable them to make a crop, can get at this office printed blanks of the Mortgage or Lien on the crop &c, authorized under the law. Furnished in any quantity on application at reasonable rates.

ADMITTED TO PRACTICE.—Mr. John M. Caldwell, of this place, was admitted to the practice of law on Monday last. He was examined in Chancery Court, by a committee appointed by the Chancellor, and passed the ordeal handsomely. We predict for him a brilliant future.

WHO WANTS A HOME? Col. Parr offers for sale three nice residences in Jacksonville—prices reasonable—terms accommodating—call and see him.

The Report of the County Superintendent giving the apportionment of the School Fund to this county has been received, but too late for insertion this week. We will print it next week and at the same time print many extra copies of the paper containing it for the benefit of teachers who are not subscribers to the REPUBLICAN. In obedience to a suggestion of our excellent County Superintendent, we advise the preservation of the paper by those interested in the cause of education.

EUREKA.—It is to the interest of every person to look out for No. 1, and W. T. & C. S. Alexander's is the place to buy Groceries.

We call attention to advertisement of the new Grocery Store of James F. Crow, just established in the saleroom under the REPUBLICAN office. Mr. C. is a young man of considerable business qualifications; has been raised and educated in our midst, and is deserving of the confidence of our people. We hope he may receive a liberal share of the public patronage, and commend him to the kind consideration of our people.

EUREKA.—I have found it. Where is it? W. T. & C. S. Alexander's is the place to buy your cigars and tobacco.

Cal. Parr has the largest stock of Plantation, Family and Fancy Groceries ever brought to Jacksonville, and is determined not to be undersold—call and see him before buying elsewhere.

EUREKA.—I have found it. Where is it? W. T. & C. S. Alexander's is the place to buy your Syrup, Molasses and Sugars.

We would suggest to our merchants that it is necessary to record their crop liens in the Probate Judge's office to render them secure.

EUREKA.—Run to W. T. & C. S. Alexander's and buy your supplies, for Groceries get cheaper with them every day.

Go to Parr's to buy your Guano, Bacon, Lard, Corn, Oats, Meal, Peas, Sugar, Coffee, Salt, Meal, Flour, Syrup, Molasses, Mince-meat, Pig Feet, Cod fish, Mackerell, Herring, Crackers, Nuts, Candies, and All kinds of Family Groceries.

EUREKA.—Where is it? Why at W. T. & C. S. Alexander's.

THE THREAD HAS COME! I. Seymour has left with Col. Parr a large lot of the best Sewing Machine Thread, for his customers. Call and get a supply before it is all gone.

The energetic firm of W. T. & C. S. Alexander are building up a good trade.

THE CREDIT MOBILIZER; Pending the last Presidential canvass some twenty of the prominent Radical members of both houses of Congress, including Vice President Colfax and the Speaker of the House, were accused in the public prints of receiving bribes in this stock from the Pacific Railroad Company. Every one of them, directly or indirectly denied the accusation. When Congress met, the investigation of the subject was submitted to a committee. As far as the enquiry has gone it appears that the denial by these men was false, and that in truth and fact this number of the leading Republican statesmen in Congress had stooped to take bribes from a great corporation of its gigantic schemes of money-making upon the influence and vote of Congressmen. We suppose that in the carpet-bag vocabulary these members will be denominated as "unfortunates." The idea was probably borrowed from the morality of the Spartan school, whose youth were allowed to steal, but to be caught at it was a crime and severely punished as such. In the Congressional Credit Mobilizer list there is a single Democrat—Mr. Brooks of New York. He has got into bad company, and must take his chances with the other "unfortunates."

McAllister has moved his hand-some Dollar Store into the store-room formerly occupied by Rosenberg. The display is charming.

To Our Business Men!

Ours is the only conservative paper published in the county; we have a fine subscription list, which we hope to increase considerably. Our circulation will be equal to that of any paper published in the interior. It affords a fine medium for advertising your business. Your county paper is called upon to do an immense amount of gratuitous work for you in laboring for the advancement of the town and county. This paper has always, with vigilant and unremitting care, watched every opportunity to invite and induce trade for this market. It has advocated and earnestly pressed every measure tending to promote or in any way advance the interests of Talladega. We think our efforts have not been fruitless, and that we have done something in the way of widening the area of our wagon trade, and increasing the business of our town. Many of you have profited by this increased trade. Indeed are growing rich and wish your independence forget the power that has so efficiently aided you in building up your profitable trade. Now we wish to aid you still further by circulating your business cards, placing your name and business weekly before our readers. We invite you to come up, and give us the opportunity, and thus to some extent reciprocate the many kindly and valuable services rendered by your county paper. Without the newspaper, no town can have a name or a business. It would sink out of notice, and be lost to public attention. You should regard it not only as a duty but a privilege, to sustain your county paper as a means of sustaining your town and your business. Sustain it liberally, that you may have a live paper, to represent a community. Subscribe for it, that may pay it only a profit of five cents in twelve months, but it will increase its circulation and enable you and others to advertise your business to better advantage. Have your posters and job work printed at home. When you send such work abroad, your newspaper thinks of you, very much as you do of the man who sends off to purchase his dry goods and groceries and furniture and wagons, &c. You set him down as a short-sighted selfish man, having very little regard for the prosperity of the community in which he lives.

The moral of this little article is, that you would consult your own interest and display a proper sense of property and fair dealing by sustaining your paper. The newspaper does not wish to beg for business, nor does it wish you to feel that you are bestowing a charity upon it when you pay a fair equivalent for a small portion of the benefit you derive from its weekly labors.

Talladega Watch Tower.

The above we clip from the columns of a Talladega neighbor and copy as partly applicable to this paper and place. Will our enterprising merchants read and ponder it.

TERRIBLE ACCIDENT.

House Sunk Into a Mine—Two Children Ruined to Death—The Mother and Two Others Dangerously Injured.

At Baker's coal mine, near Cleveland, Illinois, the house of a miner named Robert Spargo stood directly over an old chamber of the mine. On Friday afternoon the earth under the house suddenly sunk, causing the dwelling to drop into the cavity four or five feet. Mrs. Spargo and four children were gathered about a stove in one of the rooms. The floor gave way and the stove went into the cavity below, and the mother and her children were precipitated upon it and the fire which had fallen out of it. Several men working not far distant saw the house sink and ran toward the place, but before they reached the house the screams of Mrs. Spargo and the smoke which was pouring out of the horrible situation. The men rushed into the yard, took water from some barrels, entered the house and succeeded in extinguishing the fire about the woman and her little ones. But one child, a girl in her fourth year, was buried to death. Another, younger than the deceased, was burned so that she died next day. Mrs. Spargo, and the other two children were burned in a frightful manner; though at last accounts all three were living. The clothes of all were burned, their heads were singed, and the flesh on their faces and bodies blistered. All were taken to the house of a neighbor, and every thing possible was done to alleviate their sufferings, but the saving of any of them was doubtful.

In Peril from a Drunken Engineer.

A few nights since the locomotive of a train on the Pennsylvania Railroad was run between Pittsburgh and Altoona by an engineer who had, unknowingly to the conductor, become considerably intoxicated in the former city. At times, at the most dangerous places, the man put the engine to its utmost test—forty-five and fifty miles an hour. But whenever he saw a red light he reversed the locomotive, and brought into operation the patent air-brake. The stoppages from Pittsburgh to Altoona on this account were many, and the train was quite late on arriving at the latter place. The peculiar movements of the train greatly excited the passengers, and filled them with painful amazement. The conductor had become informed of the engineer's condition, but he could find no one to whom he could trust the train. He studiously kept his secret from the passengers lest his divulgement would fill them with terror. Notwithstanding the dangerous hands had been placed, the train reached the end of the engineer's run with safety. It is needless to add that the drunken employee of the company was promptly discharged. He had previously been considered one of the best and most reliable engineers—as he was one of the oldest—on the road. On the day of the accident, unfortunately he fell in with a party of friends, and drank an inordinate quantity of liquor.

Altoona, (Penn.) Tribune.

What Came of a Tomboy.

Miss Martha Knight is a good-looking girl who was born in Boston, and very early in life mortified her parents and their friends by being that childish feminine grotesqueness called a "Tomboy." She cared nothing for dolls and miniature housekeeping, like other little girls, but wanted gimlets and augers, and saws and hatchets, and nails and lumber to work with. Instead of learning to sew on doll's clothes, she made sleds and wagons and kites for her numerous brothers, and she finally became a wonder of mechanical genius. Her taste ran that way, and her friends concluded to let it go when they found they could not stop it. Miss Martha Knight, being poor, went into a paper bag manufactory to earn her livelihood. Of course such a girl could not stay at home and drone away her life at the family fireside. She went to work like a man, and has now become famous and the pride of the old folks. She has won the distinction of being the first female inventor that ever received a patent for a complete invention at Washington. Her invention is a machine for making paper bags. Several attempts had previously been made in this direction by men of mechanical genius, and all had failed. This Tomboy has now done it, and made a success. Unaided she drew her plans and she superintended the putting up of the machinery at Amherst, Mass. It works well, and her everlasting fortune is made.

Manhood!

How Lost, How Restored!

Just published a new edition of

Dr. Culverwell's Celebrated Essay on the radical

Cure (without medicine) of Seminal

Discharge, Involuntary Seminal

Losses, Impotence, Mental and Physical

Weakness, Impediments to Marriage, etc., also Consumption, Rheumatism and Piles, induced by self-indulgence or sexual extravagance.

127 Pages, in a mailed envelope, only 50c.

The celebrated author, in this admirable essay, clearly demonstrates, from a 30 years' successful practice, that the alarming consequences of self-abuse may be radically cured without the dangerous use of unwholesome medicine or the application of the knife; pointing out a mode of cure at once simple, certain and effectual, by means of which every sufferer, no matter what his condition may be, may cure himself cheaply, privately and radically.

This Lecture should be in the hands of every youth, and every man in the land. Sent under seal, in a plain envelope, to any address, postpaid, on receipt of six cents, or two post stamps. Also, Dr. Culverwell's "Marriage Guide," price 50 cents. Address the Publishers.

POETRY.

I'll Know Thee There.

G. D. Prentice said: No living poem can surpass in beauty, the following lines from the muse of Amelia:

Pale star, that with thy soft, sad light
Came out upon my bridal eve,
I have a song to sing to-night,
Before thou takest thy mournful leave;
Since then so softly thou has stir'd
That months have almost seem'd like hours,
And I am like a little bird
That sleep'd too long among the flowers,
And waking sits with wavering wing,
Soft singing 'mid the shades of even;
But oh, with sadder heart I sing—
I sing of one who dwells in Heaven.

The winds are soft, the clouds are few,
And tenderest thought my heart be-gules;
As floating up through mist and dew
The pale young moon comes out and smiles,
And to the green resounding shore,
In silvery troops the ripples crowd,
Till all the ocean dimpled o'er,
Lifts up its voice, and laughs aloud;
And star on star, all soft and calm
Floats up yon arch serenely blue;
And lost to earth and steeped in baln,
My spirit floats in ether too.

Loved one, though lost to human sight,
I feel thy spirit lingering near,
And softly as I feel the light
That trembles through the atmosphere.

As in some temple's holy shades, Though mute the hymn and hush'd the prayer,
A solemn awe the soul pervades,
Which tells that worship has been there.

A breath of incense, left alone,
Where many a ceaser swung around,
Which thrills the wanderer like to one
Who treads on consecrated ground.

I know thy soul from worlds of bliss
Yet stoops awhile to dwell with me, Hath caught the prayer I breathed in this

That I at last might dwell with thee;
I hear a murmur from the seas,
That thrills me like the spirits sighs;
I hear a voice on every breeze,
That makes to mine its low replies—
A voice all low and sweet like thine,
It gives an answer to my prayer,
And brings my soul from Heaven a sign
That I will know and meet thee there.

I'll know thee there by that sweet face,
Round which a tender halo plays;
Still touched with that expressive grace
That made thee lovely all thy days;
A beauty like the light of even,
Whose soft expression never fled
Even when its soul had flown to heaven;
I'll know thee by the sunny crown
That glitters in thy raven hair;
Oh! by those blessed signs alone
I'll know thee there, I'll know thee
there.

For all thine eye, within whose sphere
The sweetest of youth and beauty met,
That swam in love and softness here,
Must swim in love and softness yet.
For all its dark and liquid beaus,
Though shadowed by a thousand sighs
Down from the gates of Paradise,
Were bright and radiant like the morn,
Yet soft and dewy as the eve,
Too sad for eyes where smiles are born,
Too young for eyes that learn to grieve.

I wonder if thy cool sweet breeze Hath touched thy lips and found thy bow,
For all my spirit hears it now;
Recalls thee to my memory now;
For every hour we breathe apart
Will but increase if that can be,
The love that fills this lonely heart
Already filled as full of thee.
Yet many a tear these eyes will weep,
And many a sigh must be forgiven,
Ere those pale lids shall sink to sleep—
And you and I shall meet in Heaven.

THE ALABAMA AND CHATTANOOGA
RAILROAD SOLD.

The announcement made by Governor Lewis, that he has made a conditional sale of the Alabama and Chattanooga Railroad to G. J. Graham, as President of the New-Orleans and North-eastern Rail-road Company, is a sad disappointment to the Stanton men, and it is affirmed by radicals that Governor Lewis and Stanton are by no means friendly in their official relations. The party purchasing the road is required to pay a hand-some sum in cash, which will re-secure the completion of the sale, provided the Legislature approves the contract made by him.

GOV. LEWIS' MESSAGE.

The Governor, in the coolest manner possible, assumes the leg-ality of the Court House Assem-bly, and in his Message to-day re-fers to Messages sent that body, called it the General Assembly. He figures the facts of the ex-istence of the Capitol Legislature, or of the compromise offered by the Attorney General of the United States, which he recommended accepted. The Message as a whole is the poorest State paper ever is-sued from the Governor's Chair. It is an attempt to throw all the blame on the Democratic party for the thwarting of radical Legislators admitted in the House the other day to have been proven. He wants the taxes increased, or rather he wants better means of collec-tion than exist at present. He assumes the legality of the act increasing the taxes, passed by the Court House Assembly. He says nothing of the educational or industrial interests of the State. He promises to say something about Smith's over issue of bonds at some future time. All the mat-ters omitted, will, like the "over issue," promise to be sent in at some future time.

CHICAGO, February 1.—The dwelling house of Henry Carnes, near Jefferson, was burned last night. Mr. Carnes, two children and his brother, all perished in the flames.

THE MOBILE

LIFE INSURANCE CO.

This first class Southern Compa-ny is a grand success. It has is-sued over One thousand policies during the past year. It was or-ganized by the leading business men in the State with the view of stopping the flow of money to Northern Insurance Companies. It has succeeded wonderfully. Over One Hundred Thousand Dollars have been kept in this State that would have otherwise been sent out.

ITS CAPITAL, $300,000.

Is securely invested, and its accu-mulations are all kept in our midst, thereby enhancing the value of our property and developing our re-sources. Every Alabamian should insure in this safe, home company.

I. Because every dollar is kept in our State instead of being sent out.

II. It is economically and pru-dently managed.

III. Its managers are gentlemen whom we all know—and whom we can trust; they are well and favor-ably known throughout the South.

It Leads to Happiness!

A BOON TO THE WHOLE RACE OF WOMEN!

DR. J. BRADFIELD'S

FEMALE REGULATOR

It will bring on the Menses; all pain at the monthly "period," cure Rheu-matism, Neuralgia, Headache, Leucorrhoea or "Whites," and partial pro-lapsus Uteri; check excessive flow, and correct all irregularities peculiar to ladies. It will remove all irritation of Kidneys & Bladder, relieve Constipation, purify the Blood, give tone & strength to the whole system, clear the skin imparting a rose hue to the cheek, & cheerfulness to the mind. It is as sure a cure in all the above diseases as Quinine is in Chills & Fever. Ladies can cure themselves of all the above diseases without revealing their complaints to any person, which is always mortifying to their pride and modesty. It is recommended by the best physi-cians and the clergy.

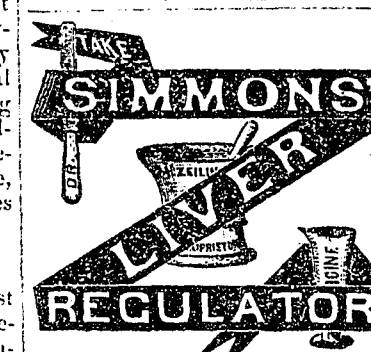

LaGrange, Ga., March 23, 1870.

BRADFIELD & CO., Atlanta, Ga.—Dear Sirs: I take pleasure in stating that I have used for the last twenty years, the medicine you are now putting up, known as Dr. J. Bradfield's FEMALE REGULATOR, and consider it the best combination ever gotten together for the disease for which it is recommended. I have been familiar with the prescription both as a practitioner of medicine and in domestic practice, and can honestly say that I consider it a boon to suffering females, and can but hope that every lady in our whole land, who may be suffer-ing in any way peculiar to their sex, may be able to procure a bottle, and that their sufferings may not only be relieved, but that they may be restored to health and strength. With my kindest regards,
I am respectfully,
W. B. FERRELL, M.D.

New Market, Ga., March 21, 1870.
MESSRS. W. B. HOYT & CO., Dear Sirs: Some months ago I bought a bottle of BRADFIELD'S FEMALE REGULATOR from you, and have used it in my family with the most perfect satisfaction, and have recommended it to three other families, and they have found it just what it is recom-mended. The females who have used your REGULATOR are in perfect health, and are able to attend to their household duties, and we cordially recommended it to the public. Yours respectfully, Rev. J. B. JOHNSON

We could add a thousand other testi-mo-nies; but we consider the above ample proof of its virtue. All we ask is a trial.

For full particulars, history of dis-eases, and certificates of its wonderful cures, the reader is referred to the wrapper round the bottle.

JACKSONVILLE, ALABAMA.

SATURDAY, FEB. 22nd, 1873.

A pretty "pair"—Glass and Edwards.

The new President of Spain is an editor.

Every Radical Senator can look upon his favorite Glass and see a true reflection of himself. Consequently Glass will not be expelled.

The Radicals of the Senate voted down a proposition to investigate the official bonds of some of the State officials who have the handling of the funds of the State.

Dr. W. L. Hedlin, of Randolph county, a brother of Hon. John T. Hedlin, was tried under the Enforcement act, at the late term of the U. S. District Court, in Montgomery, on a charge of belonging to the Ku-Klux Klan. There was a mistrial, eight standing for conviction and four for acquittal.

In the Senate, Jere Harrison, a reputed negro cotton thief as well as a State Senator, in the debate touching the bill to prohibit the sale or giving away of spirituous liquors on the Capitol grounds, asked whether the passage of the bill would operate so as to deprive him from taking a social glass of whiskey with the Governor in the rooms of his Excellency? Upon receiving an affirmative answer, he said he would vote against the bill. The bill will pass, and cotton-thief Jere and the "mill boy of Madison" will be unhappy.

Now that Gov. Lewis has approved the Act fixing the rate of taxation at three-fourths of one per cent., those Assessors who have, under instructions from Montgomery, assessed upon the basis of the double tax Court House Act, are under the necessity of revising and correcting their entire assessments, so as to make them conform to the later Act just approved. The people who pay taxes will insist on such correction, as it involves the important sum of one-fourth of one per cent. to them in the payment of taxes, a sum equal to one half the entire tax under the late Democratic administration.

Mr. Mabry, one of the Barbour contestants whom it pleases the Radical side of the House to abuse every time the late contest is mentioned, knocked Nick McAfee down some days ago for language used in debate, we presume. The Attorney-General's plan, but doubtless meets the approval of that functionary, who dislikes McAfee because he is a bore and because with others he lent himself to Parsons in the conspiracy to defeat his pet plan of compromise. The Attorney-General would also be glad to hear that some one had brought to a feeling sense of his responsibility the man Clark, who delights to assail outsiders from behind his privilege as a member of the House.

COTTON MANUFACTURE.

We have had the pleasure of reading the last Annual Report of Mr. Benj. Micon, the President of the Tallapoosa Manufacturing Company, and regret that we have not the space to present it in full to our readers. For the bearing it in on the proposition to have a cotton factory near Jacksonville, made through the Republican last week, we publish below some of the facts and figures of the report.

The net gains of the business of the company for the year 1872 was $123,381.05, being within a fraction of twenty per cent. per annum on the capital stock participating. When cotton was high and scarce, the manufacture was changed from heavy sheetings and shirtings and number 14 yarns to light sheeting and yarns above number 20. When cotton was plenty and low the manufacture was changed to heavy goods again. "The result of these changes," remarks Mr. Micon, "were highly advantageous to the business of the mills, and enabled us to go safely through a season of low cotton and low priced goods, without accumulating any stock, and to work off, at good prices, the stock already accumulated." The President further says: "Just here I desire a little to point out the great advantages the spinning business possesses, in this respect, over the business of weaving into fabrics. In the first, if you find coarse goods made of high-priced cotton begin to accumulate, in face of expected decline in cotton you can, with facility, change at once to finer yarns; and by reverse of this rule, when cotton is low, change from finer to coarser yarns. The change in the style of cloth produced cannot be made with the same facility."

"We added to our machinery last fall six first-class Warrington Mills, and are now putting up one-third to one-half our production of yarn in the shape of chain warp. Our yarns in this style are ranked first class in Philadelphia, and have given great satisfaction. We expect soon to increase this branch of business, and have ordered five more warp mills."

"Our yarn, put up in shape of chain warp, brings a better price, and has the advantage of being made on special order and sold before it is made. We have already established a reputation for our chain warps, and expect by increase to reap great benefit in the present year's business."

"The result of the past year's business should be highly gratifying to all concerned. Our business is now on a solid basis, and paying well. We are steadily progressing to the development of the immense water power and splendid location which Nature has provided for us."

"There is no longer a doubt in my mind as to the success and ultimate immense increase of the business of spinning cotton near the cotton fields."

Your attention a moment, Mr. Edwards, if you please. The Tuscaloosa Blade believes you to be a traitor to your party, and bases its conclusion on your silence in the face of public enquiry. It is a matter of common remark that you acted as you did for a considerable time. Have you nothing to say in reply to these things? Shall the people construe your silence to be a confession? It will be in order for you to explain at any time during the session. The people can afford to wait. They are grimly patient with you, knowing as they do how exceedingly fine they are going to grind you the next time you are so foolish as to aspire to public position.

Here, Mr. Edwards, are the words of the Blade:

The more we ponder upon the conduct of Edwards, the very Conservative Senator from Blount county, the more we feel disposed to condemn his late unwarrantable inability in proceeding to "pair off" each Radical class, of the House. This man Edwards has not declined to make any explanations, satisfactory or otherwise of his conduct; a fact that is calculated to increase suspicion of foul play. Edwards is on the Committee on Privileges and Elections, that set on the Martin-Miller case. He knew that his political supposed-to-be opponents would avail themselves of any and every means to gain a victory by beating Miller, and thus hold the balance of power, in both branches of the Legislature, during the remainder of the session. We believe that he knew Glass to be a villain, who would not keep his place. In short, we believe that Edwards has acted treacherously to his party.—Tuscaloosa Blade.

The House of Repres.

Brilliant Burst from Boyd.

(From the Montgomery Advertiser—Excerpt from proceedings of the House.)

Mr. Taylor from Lauderdale said that he desired to ask leave of absence for three days. The gentleman from Calhoun had before him business of a private character, and he would add that it was of a very pressing nature, for which reason he hoped that the leave would be unanimously voted.

Mr. Boyd arose and said substantially: Mr. Speaker—I hope leave of absence will be granted my friend from Calhoun who goes hence, crowned with garlands, to hear off from the parent stem one of Montgomery's finest flowers—to be transferred are long from the banks of the Alabama from the blue hills of brave old Calhoun. He goes a willing captive in Cupid's train and bravely wears the yokes and fetters of the merry god. His lovely and weary bachelorhood, maintained through storm and trial, through weary vigil and much disaster, will soon be shuffled off and he will rise up as a new man, imbued with loftier aspirations and impressed with higher views of the duties and responsibilities of husbandry. Love's first whisper, he gently heeded into the ears of his bachelor friend of Lauderdale, the hopes of happiness indulged by him and looked to the immediate future as a rosy sea, upon which he was about to launch his lone schooner with an argosy richer far than ever Spanish galleon bore to the shores of old Spain. Upon that sea he anticipates no equals other than those incident to that life, upon the threshold of which he now happily stands. But, Mr. Speaker, will we longer detain the House, and I hope leave will be granted, and that as the result of this leave, the house of Ruffin may flourish and become as numerous and thick as the locusts which strew the vale of Valhalla, and that it may overshadow this great land with fair daughters and brave sons. And in conclusion, on the part of the married men of this House, I welcome our ranks my gallant friend from Calhoun, and leave it to time to determine whether in that line he will discharge his duty well.

After this "burst" leave was of course granted.

New York, Feb. 18. It is stated that President Grant's Southern tour will be the greatest significance to the people of that section. The President contemplates starting on the 20th of March, and expects to be accompanied by nearly all his cabinet, many distinguished gentlemen, Senators, members of Congress, & others. Richmond, Virginia, will be the first stopping place. It is the President's purpose to make this the initial movement in his next administration, in the attempt to harmonize the people of the North and South. He will look into the condition of the South socially, and the local governments of the States to be visited. At Richmond and other places along the line of his visit, preparations are being made to give him an enthusiastic reception.

PENNSYLVANIA.

PHILADELPHIA, February 15th.—The Brighton train collided with a wagon. The driver and a lad and both horses were terribly mangled.

PITTSBURGH, February 18. The flood increased. The heaviest river disaster ever known, is reported. Trains were drowned. The flood has made a clean sweep of barges and rafts.

VIRGINIA.

Richmond, February 18.—Heavy rains reported from all sections of the State during the past two days, causing detention of trains. The river at Lynchburg is about 14 feet above the usual level. At this point, it is about 10 feet, which will be greatly increased by the flood from above.

Mr. Hunter's Case Postponed—Judge Smith "goes for" Mr. Semple—Attorneys Fees Against the State—Amendments to the Constitution—The Meeting of the "Association."

[Special Correspondence Selma Times.]

MONTGOMERY, ALA., February 17, 1873.

Monday, with Legislature, is like the same day, in one respect, is with school boys. It is always hard to get them regularly to work after a day's rest, even if that day is Sunday. They even shirk work as does a schoolboy, and to-day postponed the consideration of Mr. Hunter's explanation and protest, by referring the same to a select Committee appointed by Mr. Stone, temporarily occupying the chair.

PETITION OF JUDGE SMITH.

The petition of Judge J. Q. Smith, was presented by Mr. Anderson, of Mobile, and the charges made by Henry G. Semple were denied. The petitioner charged Mr. Semple with willfully suppressing facts, concerning the trial of the cause wherein he was charged, in the petition of Semple, with having acted corruptly, and leave to the House, and his sense of candor and justice, to characterize the conduct of Henry G. Semple, in this willfully omitting from his petition an integral part of the transaction and so presenting false issue for your consideration?

ATTORNEY'S FEES.

Messrs. Stone & Clifton, Watts & Try, Pettus & Dawson, attorneys at law, have sent in a bill of charges against the State for services rendered in the matter of the Alabama and Chattanooga Railroad. The bills of these gentlemen were made known to the House through a special Message from the Governor, who made no recommendation concerning what action should be taken upon them; but, with the politician in his every act, even in so small a matter, he referred to the debt having been created during a former administration. Mr. Boyd, and also Mr. Stone, took up the gauntlet thus thrown down, and demanded that a full investigation be made of all the affairs of the Alabama and Chattanooga Railroad, and that the blame be saddled upon the right parties. They argued that the Alabama and Chattanooga Railroad Company, failing to meet the interest on the bonds for which the State was liable as endorser, was primarily responsible for the depleted condition of the finances of the State, when the administration of the Democratic

CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENTS.

Amendments to the Constitution are being proposed, to be submitted to the people at the next General Election. One of those, and about the only one of any importance, is the abolition of the office of Lieutenant Governor. This is a splendid move, and one, which if amendments must be made, the people will heartily endorse. But any amendment to the Constitution will be the patching of an old worthless paper. A Constitutional Convention is an absolute necessity, and until this is had, it is earnestly hoped that no amendment will be submitted for ratification or rejection.

THE EQUAL RIGHTS ASSOCIATION.

The Equal Rights Association, through Mr. Bruce, Chairman of the Committee of Ways and Means, asked for the use of the Hall of the House of Representatives, for the purpose of holding a meeting on to-morrow night.

Mr. Parsons, (Cloud in the Chair): Wanted to know by whom the request was signed, and what the Association was. Mr. Boyd moved that all the white Radical members be compelled to attend, and informed Mr. Parsons that the Association, as the proceedings show, published in the Watchman, edited by Philip Joseph, that it had, as its President, Jas. T. Raper, of this city, a member of Congress elect. Mr. Parsons subsided.

The Bonds of the State Officers—No More "Free Dealer" or "Disability of Sonage" Bills in the House—Reflections on Slavery—A Resolution to Declare his Seat Vacant—The United States District Court—The Case of Dr. Hunter.

[Special Correspondence Selma Times.]

MONTGOMERY, ALA., February 18, 1873.

That ever vigilant member of the House, Hon. R. K. Boyd, of Marshall, this evening, introduced a resolution to have a Committee appointed to investigate the sufficiency of the bonds of the Auditor, Treasurer, and Financial Agent of the State. A similar resolution introduced in the Senate, was defeated. Messrs. Stone and Boyd, in the House, advocated the passage of the resolution with so much force, that all opposition was withdrawn, until it was understood that the Senate had defeated a similar resolution. The House adjourned before any action was taken on the resolution.

NO MORE "FREE DEALERS" OR "SON-AGE BILLS."

A Bill was reported by the Judiciary Committee to-day, conferring power upon Chancellors and Judge of Probate, to invest married women with the rights of femme sole upon application therefor. The further provisions of the Bill, are more minutely set forth in the report of the proceedings. It is necessary to say here, that the Bill provides that no more bills of the character mentioned, are to be entertained by the General Assembly.

REFLECTIONS ON SLIPPERY GLASS.

The Senate to-day, did not take any action on a resolution introduced by Mr. Terrell, to declare the seat of the disgraced Senator, W. W. Glass, vacant. The hour of 12 m. having arrived, pending the discussion of the resolution, which hour had been set as a special order for some purpose, and the resolution went over until to-morrow. If Glass had the least manliness about him, he would either demand an investigation, or resign his seat in the Senate.

THE U. S. DISTRICT COURT.

This court, with Judge Busted presiding, is still in session. The trial of Dr. Hedlin, a brother of Judge Hedlin, well known to the people of Selma, was concluded on yesterday, and the case went to the jury which has not as yet agreed upon their verdict. Dr. Hedlin is charged with having violated the enforcement act of Congress by acting with disguised persons while whipping men. Dr. Hedlin retains a high social position, and great anxiety is manifested to know the result of the trial. The whole matter is said to be an effort by prominent Radicals, in Randolph and Chambers Counties, to persecute Dr. H. and drive him from where he exercises a large influence. I have just learned that the jury made a mistrial. Eight being for convicting and four for acquitting.

Tremendous Excitement in Radical Circles.

[Special Telegram to the Selma Times.]

MONTGOMERY, ALA., Feb. 19, 8.15 p. m.

Portions of the track of the Western Railroad, between this city and Selma, are overflowed from the back water of the Alabama to-night.

THE PROCEEDINGS IN THE LEGISLATURE TO-DAY WERE UNIMPORTANT.

The special order of the day, the Civil Rights Bill, was postponed until next Tuesday, the Judiciary Committee, to whom it was referred, not being ready to report on it. It is rumored that Lewis E. Parsons, Speaker of the House of Representatives, was arrested this evening, under a warrant issued out of the United States District Court, on a charge of violating the Enforcement Act, in conspiring to prevent the election of a United States Senator, Mr. Hunter, a Republican member of the House of Representatives, from Lowndes county, made the necessary affidavit. It remains to be seen, whether the distinguished autocrat of the House, will attempt the bullying role with His Honor, Judge Richard Busted, and his Court. We shall see.

LATER.

MONTGOMERY, ALA., Feb. 19, 9.55 p. m.

Mr. Parsons was brought before Judge Busted this evening, soon after the House adjourned, and was bound over in a bond of two thousand and five hundred dollars to appear on the 18th day of March, to which time the United States District Court, this evening adjourned, for a violation of the Enforcement Act.

Mr. Parsons was arraigned on an affidavit made by Mr. Hunter, a member of the House from Lowndes, charging that Lewis E. Parsons, Laddie Williams, a negro member of the House, and others, had conspired to prevent him from voting in the House of Representatives for a United States Senator.

Mr. Parsons gave the required bond, and was discharged from custody.

There is intense excitement in the Radical camp to-night, and a Republican caucus is now being held.

Laddie Williams, the negro member of the House of Representatives, who is named in Mr. Hunter's affidavit as one of the conspirators, was also arrested on the street this evening, but was discharged from custody on giving the necessary bond.

This little episode has made the Capital lively, and has stirred up Radical circles with the longest sort of a pole. Judge Busted has proven a lion in the pathway of the Radical Oligarchy, the head and brains of which, is Mr. Speaker Parsons, and the despised Hunter, of Lowndes, has developed into a troublesome customer.

The feeling here to-night is that the autocratic rule of Parsons and Co. in the House, has received a heavy blow, and it is safe to say that no other member will again be arrested arbitrarily by the Speaker, and brought before the Bar of the House.

It is the opinion of many, that events would very probably have taken another course if the Hon. Richard Busted, Judge of United States District Court, had been in Montgomery in November and December last.

Ordinances.
A meeting of the Town Council, held February 4th, 1873, the following Ordinance was passed:

Be it ordained by the Mayor and Councilors of the town of Jacksonville, Alabama, that all members of the Fire Company, known as the Banner Hose Company, be, and are hereby relieved from the payment of Street Tax; Provided, that whenever any number of such Company shall resign, or be expelled from said company, he shall immediately become liable to the payment of street tax including all arrears; Provided further, that no honorary member shall be allowed to avail himself of the privileges of this ordinance.

Be it further ordained, that the Mayor and Councilors of the Town of Jacksonville, in consideration of the fact that no salaries attach to their respective offices shall be exempt from street tax.

G. J. TURNLEY, Mayor.

J. M. CALDWELL, Sec'y T. C.

At a meeting of the Town Council, held February 14th, 1873, an election for Mayor and Councilors of the Town of Jacksonville, was ordered to be held on the first Monday in March, 1873.

The following persons were appointed to superintend said election:

James Crow, J. C. Francis and J. Shuman Draper, Managers.

S. M. Pruitt, Returning Officer.

GEO. I. TURNLEY, Intendant.

JNO. M. CALDWELL, Secretary, T. C.

Be it Ordained, That from and after the passage of this ordinance, that any person who may desire to take water from the water works, shall first apply to the Intendant, in writing, for a permit to take water, designating the point at which connection with the Main is to be made, and the size of service pipe demanded. It shall then be the duty of the Intendant to grant such permit, and the party applying shall then be authorized to have the work done by the town Plumbers.

"Oh! Shame where is thy blush?"
Common Honesty at a Discount.

The Republican Senate of Alabama yesterday, indefinitely postponed a resolution demanding inquiry as to the sufficiency of the bonds of those State officers who are required to give bonds, and who have most to do in controlling and finger the millions that Republicans propose to borrow on the credit of the State and to collect from honest tax paying citizens.

This refusal of inquiry authorizes the inference, that the Republican Senate believes the bonds of its brethren too weak to stand inquiry, and that honesty of dealing is not desirable; that the benefit of the plundering of Bullock of Georgia and his dishonest State officers, is not to be denied to his Alabama political brethren.

What honest man can justify the refusal to inquire into the sufficiency of such bonds?
The flimsy pretence upon which this practical refusal of inquiry is excused, is, that such inquiry into the sufficiency of such bonds is unusual! Are there not these unusual times? Has there not been in the reconstructed States unusual plundering by just such State officers.

But however unusual, what honest State officer, can object to inquiry into the sufficiency of his official bond? If his bond be good, the inquiry will help him. If his bond be a "straw bond," ought not all honest people to know it?
How can the credit of the State be preserved, if the Legislature stifles inquiry into such grave matters? Who will lend money to the State, if by such conduct of Legislature, the idea gets out, that the money lent will not go to any honest purpose, but will be appropriated by such State officers as controlled Georgia in the days of the Georgian Bullock?

A similar resolution of inquiry in the House, was offered, and did not pass!!! "The wicked flee when no man pursueth; but the righteous are bold as a lion."

The Revision of the Laws.

In other lands than the broad land of the Eagle Bird now "soaring aloft" so majestically, the Revision and Codification of the laws of the State has always been regarded as a work demanding the legal profession of the highest character, and of the most enlightened intelligence. In Alabama under radical Government the opposite practice is observed! That excellent "Christian Statesman" the venerable McKinstry, has just selected the only five negroes in the Alabama Senate, with the highly educated Jere H. Lusk as Chairman of the Committee, to act as a Committee on the Revision of the laws of the State. One of the African senators, with becoming modesty, wished to decline the labor and the honor, but we believe he was finally persuaded to serve on the Committee. Verily the Bird soars aloft! Truly we all admire the Eagle Bird! The good old Mobile Register thus expresses its naturally felt satisfaction:

The Revision of the Laws of Alabama is a question that has been looked to by honest men of all parties with eager interest. It will be seen from the letter of our correspondent that the Senate Committee has been appointed to include every negro in the Senate. We have no comment to make on an outrage so flagrant as to breed disgust by its very being. Nor have we any comment to make upon McKinstry's act, in this insult to the body over which he presides, the legal ability of the whole State, and the laws of common sense, as well as of decency. When the Senate of Alabama, by its own act, made McKinstry its dictator, instead of its servant, it took from us all right to protest in its name.

"I AM A WOMAN."
I am a woman—therefore I may not call to him, cry to him, fly to him.
Pray him delay not!

And when he comes to me, I must sit quiet.
Still as a stone is,
Harder than cold,
If my heart riot—
Crush and defy it!
Should I grow colder—
Say one dear thing to him,
All my life fling to him,
Cling to him.
What to stone is Enough for my sinning!
This were the cost to me,
This were my winning—
That he were lost to me!

Not as a lover at least if he part from me,
Tearing my heart from me—
Hurt beyond cure—
Calm and endure
Then my behavior:

MANUFACTURING PAYS. If there is anything needed to convince the skeptical that cotton manufacturing in Georgia is a gold mine for those engaged in it, the report of the Eagle and Phoenix Company, of Columbus, at the annual meeting of stockholders will be sufficient. The President's report states that the net earnings or profits of the company for the past year amount to $181,405.91. The undivided profit of the company amount to $247,765.92, or twenty-four per cent of the capital stock. According to this statement the stockholders, when the profits are divided, will have received back almost their entire investment. It is a wonderful record for a Georgia institution, and is sufficient to stimulate the rapid growth of similar enterprises in the South.—See Ad.

There were five thousand more deaths in the city of New York last year than any previous year.

BY TELEGRAPH.
NEW YORK.

New York, February 18.—In addition to the vessel American Congress, already reported as probably lost, it is also stated that two other ships, the Lincoln and Sterling Castle, both British have probably met the same fate. The Sterling Castle sailed from New York December 10 for London, and had a crew of 26 men. The Lincoln sailed December 11th and had a crew of 23 men.

Yonkers, February 18.—The engine of the Yonkers special train broke loose from the train and ran as far as Hastings, running into the down train, making a complete wreck of the cars, and killing several passengers. It appears that the lever of the engine broke and the engineer was unable to stop the engine. The wounded are being removed to the hospital at Yonkers.

The Norwich, from Boston, February 14th, for New Orleans, sprung a leak and was abandoned. Her crew was saved.

Senator Sumner's health still is quite feeble, and it is doubtful whether he will appear in his seat again this session.

In Newberry county, South Carolina, within one week, there were thirty deaths from meningitis.

Col. Parr has a very large stock of all kinds of GARDEN SEEDS—IRISH POTATOES—SEED OATS, Corn, Bacon, Meal—ONIONS, Buttons and Sata, Red and Silver Shins. See his Stock.

Cotton Seed.
It costs no more to grow from good than inferior seed. The undersigned has for sale at his depot on the south side of Jacksonville, a lot of the celebrated DIXON SEED, which he has thoroughly tested, and found to be of superior quality; besides having taken great care to keep them in their original purity.

Persons wishing information in regard to these seeds, can get at address Mr. Waver's Station, Selma, Rome and Dalton Railroad, Ala. Selma is King.
